Bishop's Message

Hi Ward Family,

This will be my last weekly message with all of us returning back together each Sunday. I will from time to time contribute to the newsletter either out of necessity or if feeling so prompted. I have thoroughly enjoyed the gospel study, time to ponder and the spiritual experiences over the last 6 months writing these messages. On many occasions I would sit in the chair without any idea of what to write and after a silent prayer things start flowing.

This week studying "Forgiveness" revealed a light bulb moment. We all depend on the Savior; none of us can be saved without Him. Though forgiveness for our sins comes with conditions. We must repent, and we must be willing to forgive others, Jesus taught: "Forgive one another; for he that forgiveth not ... [stands] condemned before the Lord; for there remaineth in him the greater sin" and "Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy. (Mathew 5:7)

So in the end it's the merciful who obtain mercy. For if we aren't willing to be merciful and forgive, how can we expect the same in return from the Saviour? As we are brought to an account of our lives at the judgement seat. I've heard this message before, but this time for me, was the light bulb moment, in that you should look at forgiveness as a gift. It doesn't change the past but it does change the future.

"For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your Heavenly Father will also forgive you". "But if ye forgive not men their, trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses" (Matthew 6:14-15).

Here lies a vitally important challenge, overcoming the pain, betrayal, anguish, hurt and anger caused by others or even yourself is no easy task. However, understanding the bigger picture clearly will help us understand its purpose, our own progression and salvation.

Then, the next question remains: how often should we forgive someone, including ourselves? Peter asked the Saviour who said "I do not say to you seven times, but seventy times seven." ... (Matthew 18:22). Of course, Jesus did not mean that we should stop forgiving after 490 times or even 77 times he meant that there should be no limits to our forgiveness.

We can do our part by doing good to all men, doing what's right negates the need for others to forgive. Though in a world of accusations and unfriendliness, it is easy to gather and cast stones. But before we do, remember the words from the Saviour "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone."

What a great blessing to have this knowledge. So let us be kind, let us be forgiving, let us be merciful, let us talk peacefully with each other and "Let us do good unto all men." (Galatians 6:10)

Sincerely - Bishop Spark

Getting to Know the Sisters: Donna Goodlet

Something I have learnt from come follow me this year?

Our relationship with the Saviour is up to us - it's our responsibility to obtain a relationship with him by learning his ways & then it's up to us to maintain that relationship in spite of worldly distractions & challenges. By staying close to his teachings we have greater strength to endure life.

Something positive about Quarantine?

I loved the slower pace and it opened possibilities to do other things I had not done like plant a veggie patch. We found new ways to have fun such as Saturday night family disco in the lounge room.

What is the most interesting place you've ever been to?

Rome -loved the history.

What Fad or trend do you hope comes back?

Roller disco -roller skating !

What is special about the place you grew up?

Greenmount was special because we had beautiful surrounds & access to roaming the hills & paddocks, catching tadpoles in the creek and riding bikes with neighborhood kids. I really loved the family picnics to Rocky Pool & nearby National Park.

What's worth spending more money on to get the best?

A good hiking sleeping bag ( I have a fear of a cold night sleep)

What would be the most amazing adventure to go on?

It would be great to go on a Midwest Trek & follow the path of the early pioneers. Either that or trekking base camp Nepal.

What are some small things that make your day better?

Prayer, a walk with my dog, sharing a cuppa, reading or listening to an interesting podcast, Oh and cake or chocolate!!

What could you give a 40 min presentation on with absolutely no preparation?

Managing Infant feeding & nutrition - so many angles to cover & I love helping mums on this important beginning of their mothering journey.

What's something you think people should do at least once in their lives?

See the musical "Les Miserables". I have seen it many times & the story & music are so inspiring.
